The First Tenured Women Professors at Harvard University

FACULTY OF ARTS & SCIENCES
- Helen Maud Cam
- Cecilia Payne-Gaposchkin
- Emily Vennari
- Dorothy Colón
- Isabel MacCrady
- Luise Vogtchian

UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS
- Patricia Albjerg Graham, University Professors, History
- Elisabeth Schussler Fiorenza, University Professors, Theology
- Evelynn Hammonds, University Professors, Education
- Cynthia A. Montgomery, University Professors, History

DEANS AND PRESIDENTS
- Patricia Albjerg Graham, GSE
- Sally Falk Moore, GSAS
- Martha L. Minow, HLS
- Elizabeth Ann Owens, Law
- Katherine S. Newman, Radcliffe
- Farshid Moussavi, Architecture

ARTS & SCIENCES
- Ellen Lagemann, GSE
- Regina E. Herzlinger, SEAS
- Mary Ann Glendon, Law
- Margaret R. Miles, FAS

BUSINESS
- Dorrit Cohn, Business School

DIVINITY
- Anne Roe, Divinity School

ABOUT THE TIMELINE

- 1939: The First Tenured Women Professors at Harvard University.
- 1943: Harvard College starts allowing Radcliffe students into the classroom.
- 1947: 180 tenured FAS professors; 0 are women.
- 1950-1960: JCSW is established to facilitate and expedite the advancement of women at the University.
- 1958: Cecilia Payne-Gaposchkin becomes the first woman to chair a department at Harvard.
- 1968: For the first time, women are allowed to walk in through the front door of the Faculty Club.
- 1970: The Dean of the FAS appoints a committee of distinguished women scholars. These are the first three women to hold this honor.
- 1973: JCSW is established to facilitate and expedite the advancement of women at the University.
- 1977: Presidents Derek Bok of Harvard and Martha C. Nussbaum of Radcliffe sign an agreement which leads to the merger of Harvard and Radcliffe.
- 1979: Harvard College starts allowing Radcliffe students into the classroom.
- 1989: Judith Richards Hope, a 1964 HLS alumnus, becomes the first woman appointed to a Harvard faculty seat at Harvard.
- 1990: The first woman to chair the Harvard Corporation.
- 2002: Toshiko Mori becomes the first woman to chair the Department of Architecture.

KEY:
- Humanities: Classics, Fine Arts, History
- Social Sciences: Anthropology, Child Development
- Natural Sciences: Astronomy, Geology
- Engineering: Computer Science, Architecture
- Law: International Tax Law, Corporate Governance
- Medicine: Pediatrics, Medical Mycology

In commemoration of Harvard's 375th birthday, the Office of Faculty Development and Diversity, in collaboration with the University to identify what it is learning to be the first 100 women to chair the field, is committed to offering the interdisciplinary study of women and religion.